EXPERIENCE

J.P. Morgan Software Engineering Virtual Experience🔗

December 2024

- Completed a virtual internship simulating real-world tasks as a software engineer at J.P. Morgan Chase & Co..
- Integrated JPA and Hibernate dependencies to enable seamless database interaction and data persistence.
- Explored and implemented event-driven communication using Apache Kafka, enhancing system scalability and reliability.
- Tested and validated APIs using Postman to ensure functionality and correctness.

PROJECTS

LinkedIn Clone – Microservices Architecture | Java, Spring Boot, Microservices, Kafka, Docker

- Developed a LinkedIn-like platform using Spring Boot microservices with secure JWT authentication.
- Built services for users, posts, connections, and notifications with proper database integration and modular architecture.
- Implemented secure authentication and authorization using Spring Security with JWT, ensuring role-based access control.
- Deployed components using Docker and tested REST APIs thoroughly with Postman.

Fitness App - Monolithic Architecture | Java, Spring Boot, REST APIs , PostgreSQL

- Designed and implemented Restful APIs using Spring Boot to manage backend functionality.
- Integrated Google Maps API for gym discovery and incorporated an AI-driven posture analysis module
- Developed backend modules for diet planning, gym discovery, exercise tracking, and trainer management, secured with JWT authentication.
- Designed a scalable PostgreSQL database with a secure layered backend for efficient data handling.
